CREATIVE ASIA FORUM

“Creative cities” are city or region wide initiatives. But the idea of creative cities varies in different contexts and it seems to be difficult to convey a common vision.

We believe that seeing the creative city initiatives in the field of “education”, “clustering and urban planning”, “research and think tanks”, “policy and governance”, “NPOs and NGOs” and “media development” may yield fruitful understanding of how our city reacts and gives shape to the initiatives. In particular, the interactions of the tripartite sector - Government, Corporate, Non-profit Making Organizations – to the creative cities agenda, would create the vision and path of how creativity works for the future.
